

Estudantes africanos em Portugal:
dinâmicas migratórias e percursos académicos

African students in Portugal: migration dynamics and academic choices

Margarida Lima de Faria

Ana Bénard da Costa

IICT

Three structuring elements

- Family
- Higher education
- Elite construction processes

A □ Families' expectations □ scholar choices and mo□ility

- Families' scholar expectations and strategies
- Spatial mo□ility inside Angola as related to scholar choices
- Economic □ social and historical lin□s with Portugal

B □ Students social networks □ associativism and links with Angola

□ □ Social networks involving students from Angola living in Portugal

2 □ Students' residential areas and social relationships

3 □ Participation in students associations

□□Media used to construct and strengthen social networks

5□Convivialities and related social mobility

6□Keeping relationships with family□Angola

Returning

- The possibility of returning to Angola
- Labour market and integration strategies
- To be part of the country elite
- To be part of an international academic community

The process of elite construction

- The role of higher education
- Changes in elite formation process in Mozambique